JOURNALS:

Cognitio: Revista de Filosofia is a peer-reviewed journal published by the Center for the Study of Pragmatism at the Pontifícia Universidade Católica de São Paulo. The latter is one of the major centers in the world for the study of American philosophy, most notably Peirce and pragmatism. Cognitio, which specializes in that field, is among the leading journals in pragmatism and American philosophy worldwide.
<www.pucsp.br/pragmatismo/cognitio/cognitio_folha_rosto.html>

Cybernetics and Human Knowing is a peer-reviewed, multi- and trans-disciplinary journal for second-order cybernetics and cybersemiotic approaches. The journal is devoted to the new understandings of the self-organizing processes of information and signification in living and artificial systems as well as human knowing that have arisen through second order cybernetics and autopoiesis and their relation to and relevance for other interdisciplinary approaches such as C. S. Peirce's semiotics and biosemiotics. <www.chkjournal.org/>

Documentary Editing is the journal of the Association for Documentary Editing (ADE), which was created in 1978 to promote documentary editing through the cooperation and exchange of ideas among the community of editors. Since 1979, Documentary Editing has been the premier journal in the field of documentary and textual editing. Beginning with the 2012 issue, Documentary Editing has been renamed Scholarly Editing.
<www.documentaryediting.org/doc_edit/index.html>

Journal of the History of Ideas is a peer-reviewed journal that specializes in intellectual history. It is without question the top journal in that field, with a rejection rate of over 90% and nearly 400,000 J-Store article requests each year. Some of its prestige comes from the fact that its founder was Arthur O. Lovejoy (1873–1962), probably the most distinguished historian of ideas in the twentieth century. <http://jhi.pennpress.org/strands/jhi/journalInfo.htm>

Metaphilosophy publishes articles and book reviews stressing considerations about philosophy and about particular schools, methods, or fields of philosophy. It is a highly respected journal with 3,736 subscribers and a rejection rate of over 85%.
<http://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/journal/10.1111/%28ISSN%291467-9973>

Newsletter of the Society for the Advancement of American Philosophy appeared three times a year, including one full book review issue. The Newsletter aimed to review all books published in American philosophy. In 2009 it merged with the journal The Pluralist.
<http://secure.pdcnet.org/saap/Special-Issues>

Semiotica is the premier journal for semiotics, published by the International Association for Semiotic Studies and founded, in 1969, by the internationally renowned semiotician Thomas

Sebeok. All articles are peer-reviewed. It is ranked 11 of 432 journals in literature and literary theory by SJR. <www.degruyter.com/view/j/semi>

Transactions of the Charles S. Peirce Society is unquestionably the premier journal worldwide for work focused on American philosophy. Although its title begins with "Transactions" it is not a transactions but a refereed journal. Also, although it takes its name from the founder of American pragmatism, it covers all types of American thought from the colonial period to the present. All articles are peer-reviewed. The Transactions has 3,087 subscribers and a rejection rate of over 80%. During the last fiscal year its articles were accessed 38,420 times through JSTOR and Project Muse. PUBLISHERS:

Alboversorio (Milan) is an Italian publisher from Milan, Italy, that publishes fiction and non-fiction by classical and contemporary authors, with a strong presence in philosophy. The publisher publishes only in Italian. <http://alboversorio.webnode.it/>

Bloomsbury (London) is a large general publishing house. It includes Bloomsbury Academic. Especially after it acquired Continuum Press in 2011 (see below), Bloomsbury has been a major publisher in philosophy. For instance, it is well known for its highly successful "Guides for the Perplexed" series—a series in which Professor de Waal has published. Bloomsbury was named Publisher of the Year in 1999 and 2000 by the British book industry. <www.bloomsbury.com/us/non-fiction/philosophy-religion/>

Continuum Press (New York) was created in 1999 with the merger of Cassell and The Continuum Publishing Company. The academic publishing program is focused on the humanities, especially philosophy, film and music, literature, education, linguistics, theology, and biblical studies. In 2011 Continuum was taken over by Bloomsbury.

CQ Press (Washington DC) is a division of SAGE Publications. It publishes books, directories, periodicals, and electronic products on American government and politics, with an expanding list in international affairs and journalism and mass communication. The CQ Press Reference Information Group publishes authoritative content designed for the library market.

Edições Loyola (São Paulo) is a large Jesuit general publishing house that has published over a million books since its inception 55 years ago. <www.loyola.com.br/>

Fordham University Press (New York) was established in 1907 and publishes sixty to seventy scholarly books annually, primarily in the humanities and social sciences. It has an outstanding reputation for its series in American philosophy (a series in which Professor de Waal has published) and for its many award-winning books. It has published 2,500 books and maintains 1,000 active titles, including both print and electronic versions. <http://fordhampress.com/>

Indiana University Press (Bloomington), founded in 1950, is recognized internationally as a leading academic publisher specializing in the humanities and social sciences. It produces approximately 140 new books annually, in addition to 28 journals, and maintains a backlist of some 2,000 titles. <www.iupress.indiana.edu/>

Mouton de Gruyter (The Hague) is a major scholarly publishing house specializing in academic literature. It is one of the oldest academic publishers, having received permission to print books from King Frederick II of Prussia more than 250 years ago. Annually, De Gruyter publishes more than 700 new titles, covering the areas of humanities, medicine, mathematics, natural sciences, and law. In addition, it offers over 100 academic journals, as well as various electronic media. <www.degruyter.com/>

The Open Court Publishing Company (Chicago) began in 1887. It publishes scholarly books in philosophy, Eastern thought, and comparative religion, as well as books for the general reader. It is highly respected by philosophers, having published many classics in that field and many books by prominent contemporary philosophers, including Hilary Putnam, Charles Hartshorne, Roderick Chisholm, Arthur Danto, Jerome Schneewind, and Kurt Baier. Likewise, it is respected for publishing the philosophical journal The Monist, the renowned "Library of Living Philosophers" series, the Collected Works of Rudolf Carnap, and a hugely successful series on philosophy and popular culture. <www.opencourtbooks.com/>

Oxford University Press (Oxford, UK) is the largest, and probably the most distinguished, university press in the world. It is a department of Oxford University. <http://global.oup.com/>

Prometheus Books (Amherst) was founded in August 1969 by philosopher Paul Kurtz, also founder of the Council for Secular Humanism, Center for Inquiry, and co-founder of the Committee for Skeptical Inquiry. Prometheus Books publishes on topics such as science, free-thought, secularism, humanism, and skepticism. It is very well known among philosophers, having published books by such prominent contemporary philosophers as Kai Nielsen, Peter Singer, Antony Flew, and Nathan Salmon. Prometheus publishes approximately one hundred new books per year.

Routledge (New York) is a major, global publisher of academic books, journals, and online resources in the humanities and social sciences. It descends from the famous 19th-century London bookseller George Routledge. It is no doubt one of the top publishers in philosophy and in many other areas. For example, it has published works of many of the greatest thinkers and scholars of the last hundred years, including Adorno, Einstein, Russell, Popper, Wittgenstein, Jung, Bohm, Hayek, McLuhan, Marcuse, and Sartre.

Sense Publishers (Rotterdam) was founded in 2004 and is today the fastest growing publisher of books in Educational Research and related fields. It features a backlist of nearly 800 titles and more than 140 new titles are published annually. <www.sensepublishers.com/>

Thomson Gale (Detroit) is part of Cengage Learning, is a world leader in e-research and educational publishing for libraries, schools and businesses. Best known for accurate and authoritative reference content as well as intelligent organization of full-text magazine and newspaper articles, Gale publishes learning resources in a variety of formats including web portals, digital archives, print and eBooks. <www.gale.cengage.com/>
