Division of Continuing Studies
... is an outstanding student who is persistent about learning. This past fall, she worked full time, trained for and ran a full marathon, and completed 11 credit hours while maintaining a semester GPA of 4.0. She works for Indiana University Health as a Neurodiagnostic Technologist and returned to school as an adult student because obtaining a bachelor’s degree was an important goal in her life. She plans to pursue a master’s degree in the Physician Assistant Studies Program at IUPUI to further her career in health care. She is an inspiration to all adult learners.

Fairbanks School of Public Health
... is an outstanding student who consistently performed at the top of the class in her Master of Public Health courses. While in the program, she was selected to serve as a teaching assistant in biostatistics due to her strong quantitative skills. She is highly motivated to continue her education and research and was recently admitted to the doctoral program in Epidemiology at IUPUI.

Graduate School - Doctoral Program
... is an outstanding doctoral student in the Department of Oral Biology. He has maintained a 4.0 GPA while publishing one book chapter and seven manuscripts as author or co-author, as well as having four additional manuscripts ready to submit after potential patent possibilities are determined. He will be returning to a faculty position at King Saud University in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, and has initiated a Ph.D. exchange program between King Saud University and the Indiana University School of Dentistry.

Graduate School - Master's Program
... has excelled throughout his time as a graduate student in public history. He is a fine historian and writer; he is also committed to putting history to work in the world in meaningful ways. We are delighted to see him recognized as a Chancellor’s Scholar.

Herron School of Art and Design
... has demonstrated consistent excellence and unshakable determination throughout her studies in art history. She has excellent and creative research skills, an accurate eye, and considerable ability as a writer. The Herron community anticipates her continued success as she pursues a master’s degree in Library Science.

Honors College
... academic record in Chemistry and Science sets a new standard of excellence and accomplishment. He will be pursuing a dual degree M.D./M.A. program in medical humanities and bioethics at Northwestern University where he will undoubtedly continue to raise the academic bar. The IUPUI Honors College is honored to have him represent us as our 2013 Chancellor's Scholar.

Indiana University-Purdue University Columbus
Since beginning her studies in 2009, ... has consistently set the class standard for diligent and critical inquiry as she pushes herself, her instructors, and her classmates to explore new areas of content and business practice. She helps other students succeed by tutoring them in calculus and accounting and has also supported our faculty as a teaching assistant. She maintained a sterling academic record while working on and off campus and is the type of student who makes us proud and happy to be educators.